PREFACE.

THE lists which follow have been compiled in order to facilitate the study of the relations of England and France during the Stuart period. The absence of any published lists of English ambassadors anterior to 1790 is a great obstacle to the systematic study of the foreign policy of Great Britain. printed list of ambassadors originally inserted by Beatson in his Political Index, 1806, and continued by Ilaydn and Ockerby, begins with the year 1760. (See Haydn, Book of Dignities, ed. H. Ockerby, London, 1890, pp. 112-137). It is hoped some time to continue the present list from 1688 to 1760, and also to complete it by adding similar lists dealing with the relations of England to other European states. It seemed desirable, however, to print this as it stands, because it was needed for immediate use by pupils. For their benefit also an attempt has been made to show where the original despatches of each particular ambassador are to be found, and what part of them is accessible in print.

A list of ambassadors from France to England is equally essential for reference. That which follows is based on the list of French ambassadors in England from 1509 to 1714, drawn up by M. Armand Baschet, and printed in the Appendix to the 37th Report of the Deputy Keeper of the Public Records (pp. 180-197). The references to MSS, in the Bibliothèque Nationale are given on the authority of M. Baschet. To them, for the convenience of students, there have been added a number of references to books and collections of documents in which letters, instructions, and extracts from the correspondence of the various ambassadors are accessible in print. Lists of the transcripts of the correspondence of these ambassadors made under the direction of M. Baschet, and transmitted to the Record Office, are contained in Reports 40–47 of the Deputy

IV. PREFACE.

Keeper of the Public Records. Since these transcripts cover the whole of the period from 1603 to 1688 a general reference to them is sufficient, and they are not specially mentioned in the notice devoted to each particular ambassador, but the value of this splendid series to students cannot be overestimated. They are accessible to all searchers at the Public Record Office.

A catalogue of French ambassadors to England made by John Holmes, and covering the period from 1351 to 1741, is to be found in the British Museum (Add. MSS. 20761-4). He compiled also a similar catalogue of English ambassadors to Foreign States, 1335-1770 (Add. MSS. 20765-6). Both are too defective to be of much use. The lists given by Mr. F. S. Thomas in his Historical Notes are better, but also very defective, being (as he explains) merely references jotted down for his own use. In 1903 the French government published the first volume of an Inventaire Sommaire des Archives des Affaires Etrangères—Correspondance Politique. It contains, besides a brief indication of the contents of the volumes of letters and documents catalogued, a list of French ambassadors and agents employed in England. As it omits those whose papers are not in the Archives of the French Foreign Office, it is less complete than Baschet's list, and there are many discrepancies both as to names and dates between the two lists. References to this Catalogue are inserted in these Notes as Archives des Affaires Etrangères. Angleterre, with the number of the volume added.

In the case of standard books of which several editions exist it will be convenient to state here the edition referred to. References to Dr. Gardiner's History of England and its continuations are to the cabinet edition in crown 8vo. Those to Macaulay are to the cabinet edition in eight volumes published in 1858, and those to Dalrymple's Memoirs of Great Britain and Ireland to the edition of 1790. In the case of Ranke's History of England the translation published at Oxford in 1875 has been used, and for Guizot's works on Oliver and Richard Cromwell the translations in two volumes by A. R. Scoble.

ENGLISH AMBASSADORS

AND

DIPLOMATIC AGENTS IN FRANCE

(1603-1688).

Sir Thomas Parry, ambassador.

Ralph Winwood was resident in France till Jan., 1003. Elizabeth sent Sir Thomas Parry as ambassador thither in Aug., 1602, and James I reaccredited him to Henry IV (Birch, View of the Negotiations between England, France, and Brussels, p. 203; Kermaingant, Mission de Christophe de Harlay, i. 52, 74, 93, 110). Parry remained in France till the Spring of 1606. His letter of recall is undated: his recredentials dated Mar. 3, 1606, and second recredentials, April 15, 1606 (State Papers, France, vol. 53; Kermaingant, ii. 318-9). Many letters from Parry to Cecil are in vols. 49-53 of State Papers, France.

Sir George Carew, ambassador.

Instructions Oct., 1605 (State Papers, France, vol. 52). Carew entered Paris Dec. 13, and had audience Dec. 28, 1605 (ib., cf. Kermaingant, i. 269, 278; ii. 319). His recredentials from Henry IV are dated Oct. 2, and his last letter from Paris Sept. 25, 1609 (ib., vol. 55). On Oct. 15 Carew was back in England. Letters from Carew to Salisbury are contained in State Papers, France, vols. 52-55. See also Birch, View of the Negotiations, pp. 222, 233, 253, and Winwood State Papers, vol. ii, p. 195. On his return Carew drew up a 'Relation of the State of France, with the character of Henry IV, &c.', which is printed in full by Birch, pp. 415-528. The 'Relation' is now in the British Museum, Add. MS, 35,846.

Sir Thomas Edmondes, ambassador.

Instructions about May 14, 1610 (State Papers, France, vol. 50). Arrives in Paris May 24 (ib.; see also Birch, View of the Negotiations, pp. 301, 313, 405: Winwood Papers, iii. 173). Edmondes returned to England Feb., 1614, and was there till end of March 'about a match with the second daughter of France' (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1611-18, pp. 225-8). Instructions on going again to France, July 17, 1614 (State Papers, France, vol. 62). Warrant for commission to Hay and Edmondes concerning the marriage treaty, May, 1616 (ib., vol. 65). Recredentials from Louis XIII, Dec. 18, 1616 (ib., vol. 66). Edmondes was in England from about Dec. 21, 1616, to the beginning of May, 1617. Arrived in Paris about June 2, 1617 (ib., vol. 67; Cal. S. P. Dom., 1611-18, pp. 415, 122, 466). He returned to England again Nov., 1617, and was made Treasurer of the Household in Jan., 1618. The State Papers and Correspondence of Sir T. Edmondes, 12 vols, folio, are now in the British Museum, Stowe MSS, 166-177. Letters from him are in State Papers. France, vols. 56-67. Letters to him from Secretary of State, May, 1610, to Feb., 1612, are in Foreign Entry Book, 165.

Edward, Lord Wotton, ambassador extraordinary to the Oueen of France.

Sent Aug., 1610, to get treaty of Aug. 19 sworn to (Birch, View of the Negotiations, pp. 323-5). Instructions (State Papers, France, vol. 56; Foreign Entry Book, 165; Stowe MS. 177, p. 131). Back in England Oct., 1610.

William Beecher, agent.

At Paris, 1609–1611. Wrote numerous letters to Salisbury from Paris (State Papers, France, vols. 55–58). Report that he was to succeed Edmondes from Oct., 1616 (Cal. State Papers, Dom., 1611–18, pp. 399, 465, 483). Recalled Oct., 1618 (ib., p. 583). Letters to the king and Sir T. Lake in 1617–8 (State Papers, France, vols. 67–8).

James, Lord Hay, ambassador extraordinary.

Sent about June, 1616, to negotiate a match between the Princess Christina and the Prince of Wales. Commission dated June 8 (Rymer, xvi. 788). Returns to England Oct., 1616 (Birch, View of the Negotiations, p. 398; Cal. S. P. Dom., 1611–18, pp. 397–8; Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 177, 183; Wilson, James I, p. 92; Gardiner, History of England, ii. 391-4). Joint letters from Edmondes and Hay to Winwood (State Papers, France, vol. 66).

Sir Edward Herbert, afterwards Lord Herbert of Cherbury, ambassador extraordinary, and afterwards ordinary.

Instructions May 7, 1619 (Powysland Collections, vi. 417; Life of Lord Herbert, ed. Lee, p. 332). Writes from Paris to Earl of Pembroke May 2, 1619 (State Papers, France, vol. 68). Recalled from France for challenging Luynes, July, 1621 (ib., vol. 69; Cal. S. P. Dom., 1619-23, p. 276). Letters, May, 1619—Feb., 1620, in Add. MS. 7082; other letters in Harleian MS. 1581, and Egerton MS. 2598. Selections printed by Lee, Life of Lord Herbert, pp. 337-353, and by Gardiner, Relations between England and Germany, ii. 12-185. For his own account of his embassy, see Life, pp. 183-226. Herbert was sent again to France in June, 1622 and in Jan. 1623, and writes from Paris Jan. 18-28, 1623 (State Papers, France, vol. 71). Recalled April 14, 1624; recredentials dated June 9 (Harleian MS., 4593). Letters in State Papers, France, vols. 71-2. See also Lee, Life of Lord Herbert, pp. 229-252; Cabala, p. 231; and Tenth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., Pt. iv, MSS. of the Earl of Powis.

James Hay, Viscount Doncaster, ambassador extraordinary.

Sent July, 1621; writes from France Aug., 1621 (State Papers, France, vol. 69). Returned to England Feb. 16, 1622 (Court and Times of James I, i. 295). Recredentials Feb. 10-20 (State Papers, France, vol. 70). Sent to France again end of March, 1622, writes from Paris April 14, returns to London July 26, 1622 (State Papers, France, vol. 70; Court and Times of James I, i. 324). Sent a third time to Paris Feb., 1623, makes but a short stay, and follows Prince Charles to Spain (State Papers, France, vol. 71; Court and Times of James I, i. 371-4, 397).

Henry Rich, Lord Kensington, afterwards Earl of Holland, ambassador extraordinary.

To be sent to France (Dec., 1623) on proposed marriage treaty (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1623-5, p. 124). Sets out Feb., 1624 (ib., p. 158). Arrived at Paris Feb. 20 (State Papers, France, vol. 72). Credentials undated (ib., vol.

21). Draft of commission to Kensington and James Hay, Earl of Carlisle, Mar. 31 (Cal S. P. Dom., 1623-5, p. 203). Instructions to Kensington and Carlisle May 17, and further instructions, undated (State Papers, France, vol. 72). Kensington returns to England June, 1624 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1623-5, p. 283). Recredentials June 18-28 (State Papers, France, vol. 72). Sent back to France as Earl of Holland in July (ib., p. 312). Credentials to King and Queen of France July 21 and 23 (Foreign Entry Book, 166). Instructions, undated (Harleian MS. 1584). Marriage treaty signed Nov. 10. For letters, see Cabala, pp. 286-294; Clarendon State Papers, vol. ii, Appendix, ii-xxiv; State Papers, France, vols. 72-75. William Murray, of the Bedchamber.

Sent on a private mission to the Queen Mother in 1632. Instructions (State Papers, France, vol. 92).

Jerome Weston, afterwards Lord Weston, ambassador extraordinary (?).

Sent to Turin via Paris, 1632. Instructions, July 24, 1632 (State Papers, France, vol. 92). First letter from Paris, Aug. 16, 1632. Recredentials Sept. 11, 1632 (ib). (See Gardiner, History of England, vii. 204, 214, 216; and Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu, iv. 332).

René Augier, agent at Paris.

First employed in May, 1629 (Report on the MSS. of Earl Cowper, i. 421). Many letters of his from Paris in 1633, 1634 and subsequent years. In July, 1636, it was decided to recall both Augier and De Vic, who was also agent, and De Vic's letters cease at the end of the year. In May, 1640, Leicester writes that Augier is an unnessary charge, and on May 22 it is said that he has taken his leave at the French Court (State Papers, France, vols. 92-109). Lord Herbert writes 'My secretary for the French tongue (1619) was one Monsieur Ozier, who was afterwards the King's agent in France' (Life, ed. Lee, p. 197; Report on the MSS. of Earl Cowper, ii. 33, 84, 186). See also Strafford Letters (ii. 58) showing Augier was in London about Feb., 1637.

John, Viscount Scudamore, ambassador in ordinary.

Instructions June, 1635, and supplementary instructions undated (State Papers, France, vol. 98. Original instructions dated June 9, 1635, are in the British Museum, Add. MS. 11044, f. 57. Makes his entry, Sept. 4, 1635. Further instructions, Nov. 9, 1635 (State Papers, France, vol. 99; printed in Clarendon State Papers, i. 393). Recredentials, Feb. 18-28, 1639. Leaves Paris, Mar. 2, 1639. Correspondence with Coke and Windebanke, State Papers, France, vols. 07-107. See also Cal. Clarendon State Papers, i. 71, Clarendon's History of the Rebellion, vi. 184 and Masson, Life of Milton, i. 749-759. The letter-book of Scudamore while in France, Aug., 1635—Jan., 1639, is in the British Museum, Add. MSS. 35097. See also Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 46, 47.

Robert Sydney, Earl of Leicester, ambassador extraordinary.

Appointed ambassador Feb. 29, 1636 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1636-7, p. 225). Instructions April 28 (State Papers, France, vol. 101). Additional instructions May 9 (ib.; printed in Collins' Sydney Papers, ii. 374). Instructions Sept. 22, 1636 (Report on the MSS. of Earl Cowper, ii. 141). Additional instructions April 28, 1639 (State Papers, France, vol. 139). Leicester was in London in May, 1638, for some weeks, and again from March to the end of July, 1630. On June 2, 1641, he was declared Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, but his letters of recall are dated July 13, 1641, and he took leave on Sept. 2. long series of Leicester's letters are printed by Collins, Sydney Papers, ii. 374-600; others are in State Papers, France, vols. 101-111. Many letters to him from Secretary of State in Foreign Entry Book, 170. See also Gardiner, History of England, viii. 161, 163, 211; Report on the MSS. of Earl Cowper, ii. 213, 285.

Thomas Windebank.

Sent to Paris to obtain the release of the Elector Palatine (see Gardiner, History of England, ix. 70). He had audience of Louis XIII, Dec. 17, 1639, and of Richelieu Dec. 19 (Avenel, Lettres de Richelien, vi. 665-6).

William Kerr, third Earl of Lothian.

Agent sent by Charles I to secure the renewal of the privileges of the Scots in France. Instructions dated Jan. 10, 1643 (Ancram and Lothian Papers, i. 142; Fotheringham, Correspondence of Jean de Montereul, i. 11; Salomon, Frankreichs Beziehungen zu dem Schottischen Aufstand, Berlin, 1890, p. 55).

George, Lord Goring, afterwards Earl of Norwich, ambassador extraordinary.

Entered Paris Dec. 5, 1643, and had audience Dec. 23 (Diary of John Evelyn). A letter of his to Queen Henrietta Maria, dated Jan. 15, 1644, was intercepted with other documents, in consequence of which Goring was impeached by the Long Parliament. See the old Parliamentary History, xiii. 17-25; State Papers, France, vol. 111; Cal. Clarendon Papers, i. 247; Chéruel, Lettres de Mazarin, ii. 326, 344, 369, 380. For other particulars see Pepys, Diary, Feb. 3, 1661.

Richard, afterwards Sir Richard Browne.

Was secretary to Wake (State Papers, France, vol. 88), and is spoken of in 1638 as agent at Paris (Cal. Clarendon Papers, i. 163). The letter of recall from Charles I to Leicester, presenting at the same time Browne as agent, is dated July 13, 1641. Leicester took leave of the Queen Sept. 2, and presented Browne (State Papers, France, vol. 111). His general instructions, dated July 23, 1641, are printed in Evelyn's Diary (iv. 230-2; cf. Cal. Clarendon Papers, i. 412). In them he is styled 'agent.' Revocation of Browne as 'resident' May 16, 1657 (Cal. Clarendon Papers, iii. 293). Political and private correspondence of Sir R. Browne, 1641-60, Add. MS. 34702: see Evelyn, Diary, iv. 238-325, also Add. MSS. 15857-8.

REPRESENTATIVES OF THE LONG PARLIAMENT, THE COMMONWEALTH, AND THE PROTECTOR.

René Augier, agent, afterwards resident.

According to his declaration printed in the Commons Journals in Oct., 1650, he was sent to France by the Long Parliament Oct. 26, 1644 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1644-5, p. 73), arrived at Paris Dec. 2, and remained there till Sept., 1649 (C. J., vi. 494-6). On Aug. 9, 1651, the Council of State voted £1008 16s. 8d., due for his services as Resident in France, and on May 20, Frost, the clerk of the Council, was ordered to certify that Augier had served the Parliament of England as their agent at Paris from Nov., 1644, until six months since, when he was recalled (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1651, pp. 209, 311). Letters from Augier are printed in Cary's Memorials of the Civil IVar, i. 5, 32, 41, 56, 72, 155. See also Cal. Clarendon Papers, i. 413. Augier was again employed as agent at Paris for the Protector in Jan., 1656 (Thurloe Papers, vi. 347, 374).

Hugh Morrell (or Morel).

Employed as agent in France in 1651 on commercial matters (Cary, Memorials, ii. 264; Report on the Duke of Portland's MSS., i. 405).

Samuel Morland.

Sent by the Protector as envoy to the Duke of Savoy (May 25, 1655), was at the same time charged with letters to Mazarin and Louis XIV on behalf of the Vaudois, which he delivered early in June, 1655 (Morland, History of the Evangelical Churches in Piedmont, pp. 563-7; Guizot, Cromwell and the English Commonwealth, ii. 217-8, and Appendix xviii; Thurloe Papers, iii. 458, 531; Hamilton, Milton Papers, p. 2; Masson, Life of Milton, v. 184-9).

George Downing.

Sent by the Protector as envoy to the Duke of Savoy, and charged with letters for Mazarin and Louis XIV (July 29, 1655) on behalf of the Vaudois (Masson, Life of Milton, v. 190; Guizot, Cromwell and the English Commonwealth, ii. 221, 514; Thurloe Papers, iii. 696, 734).

Colonel, afterwards Sir William, Lockhart, ambassador.

On Feb. 29, 1655-6, the Council of State advised that he be sent as resident to France (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1655-6, p. 204). Credentials April 9 (?), 1656 (Masson, Life of Millon, v. 251; Hamilton, Millon Papers, pp. 9, 10). Instructions (State Papers, France, vol. 113, undated). Lockhart embarked for France April 14-24, 1656 (Thurloe Papers, iv. 728, 739). Audience of the King, May 8, 1656 (ib., iv. 771; v. 8, 21). Further instructions as to a league with France (ib., v. 41). Returned to England Dec., 1656 (ib., v. 609, 667, 694). See also, Guizot, Cromwell and the English Commonwealth, ii. 241, 552, 572; Chéruel, Ministère de Masarin, iii. 10-36; Gardiner, History of the Commonwealth and Protectorate, iv. 242-8.

Lockhart was sent back to France in Jan., 1657 (Thurloe Papers, v. 794). Had audience of Mazarin, March 9-19 (ib., v. 104, 107). Treaty signed, March 13-23; text first completely printed by Guizot (Cromwell and the English Commonwealth, ii. 377, 563; Chéruel, Ministère de Mazarin, iii. 52-58). Lockhart paid a flying visit to England in April, 1658 (Thurloe, vii. 70). On the capture of Dunkirk, June 15-25, 1658, it was handed over to the English forces, and he became its governor (Thurloe, vii. 175–166). On the fall of Richard Cromwell and the re-establishment of the republic, he accepted the new government and asked leave to return to England (Thurloe, vii. 670). He was ordered to proceed to Paris in Sept., 1658, by Richard Cromwell's government, in order to raise a loan (Guizot, Richard Cromwell, i. 238, 241, 250; ii. 246, 249), was back in England in Dec., 1658 (ib., i. 261), and was sent to Paris again in March, 1650 (ib., i. 312, 322, 326, 352, 361, 380; Valfrey, Hugues de Lionne, p. 267). On the establishment of the republic Lockhart was again chosen to represent England at Paris (Guizot, i. 410, 421, 426, 428). His choice was approved by Parliament on June 13, 1659 (Commons Journals, vii. 682), but he did not start till July (ib., vii. 701). From Paris he was ordered to Bayonne to watch the negotiations which ended in the treaty of the Pyrenees (Guizot,

i. 428, 431, 434-6; Cheruel, Ministère de Mazarin, iii. 251, 288; Valfrey, Hugues de Lionne, pp. 313-317). Several letters written by Loekhart were intercepted and are to be found amongst the Clarendon State Papers (vol. iii, pp. 338, 539-549). He was ordered home in Oct., 1659, returned to his command at Dunkirk in Dec., 1659, and remained there till May, 1660, when he was superseded by Col. Edward Harley (Transactions of the Royal Historical Society, new series, vol. xviii, pp. 95, 115; Commons Journals, vii. 795).

Letters from Lockhart during these various missions in France are to be found in State Papers, France, vols 113, 114, and some are printed in the Calendar of Domestic State Papers for the years in question. A still larger number are printed in the Thurloe Papers, the originals of which are amongst the Rawlinson MSS. in the Bodleian Library. His account for his expenses is printed in Thurloe Papers (vi. 681). Avenel's Lettres de Mazarin, vols vii-ix., contain references to the Cardinal's negotiations with Lockhart. See also Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 56, 68-71, 74.

Thomas Belasyse, Viscount Fauconberg.

Sent on a special mission, without title of ambassador, to compliment Louis XIV in May, 1658. Credentials, not dated (Masson, Life of Millon, v. 390). Fauconberg set out May 27, 1658, and was back at Whitehall by June 8 (Thurloe, vii. 151, 158; Guizot, Cromwell and the English Republic, ii. 385, 591; Chéruel, Ministère de Mazarin, iii. 147; Bourelly, Cromwell et Mazarin, p. 172).

CHARLES II.

William, Lord Crofts.

Was sent in June, 1660, to notify the restoration of Charles II to the French king; he returned to England about the beginning of Sept., 1660 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1660-1, p. 259; Chéruel, Ministère de Mazarin, iii. 325).

Henry Jermyn, Earl of St. Albans.

P. Dom., 1672, p. 262) Letters, etc., Foxcroft, i. 74-96. See also Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 237. Kisses king's hand on his return at Whitehall July 21, 1672 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1672, p. 370).

George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham.

Commission as ambassador extraordinary to France, &c., with Lords Arlington and Halifax, June 21, 1672 (Foreign Entry Book, 17; Cal. S. P. Dom., 1672, p. 262). Returned to England July 21 (ib., p. 370). See Burghelere, Life of Buckingham, pp. 265–273.

Henry Bennet, Earl of Arlington.

Commission as ambassador extraordinary to France with the Duke of Buckingham and Lord Halifax, June 21, 1072. Back in England July 21, 1072 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1072, pp. 262, 370).

Henry Savile, envoy extraordinary.

Appointed Oct., 1672 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1672-3, p. 107). Had audience of Louis XIV, Oct. 14. Returned to England at the end of October (see Savile Correspondence, pp. 26-35; Perwich, p. 243).

Robert Spencer, Earl of Sunderland, ambassador extraordinary.

Sent as envoy to Spain in Nov., 1671, passes through Paris, has audience of Louis XIV, Dec. 1, and proceeds to Spain (MSS. of the Duke of Buccleuch at Montagu House, vol. i, p. 506). On June 20, 1672, Charles writes to the French Queen that he means Sunderland to be his ambassador extraordinary at Paris (Foreign Entry Book, 17). Arrives at Paris at the end of June (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1672, pp. 540, 684; ib., 1672-3, p. 350). Credentials, Sept. 23, 1672; Revocation, March 10, 1673 (Foreign Entry Book, 17; Rawlinson, MS. C., 172, ff. 150, 151). Apparently his public entrance was long delayed (Savile, Correspondence, p. 29), so that he did not have audience till the beginning of Nov., 1672. (See Chudleigh's letter of Nov. 19). Letters in State Papers, France, vols. 134-6, and Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 244; Add. MS., 32094, f. 268.

Sir William Lockhart, envoy, afterwards ambassador.

Lockhart arrived at Paris, April 1, 1672, and had audience of the King on April 5 (Perwich's Despatches, pp. 210, 212). Subsequently he appears to have been with the French army in Flanders, and the instructions to Lord Halifax, June 14, order him to confer with Mr. Sidney Godolphin and Sir William Lockhart (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1672, p. 226; also Foxcroft, Life of Halifax, i. 73, 75). Williamson notes his return to England on June 17, 1673. Envoy extraordinary to France from April to October, 1673. Privy seal March 9, 1673, for payment to him of £5 per diem as envoy extraordinary to the French king during the next campaign (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1673, p. 26). He took leave April 3-13, 1673, was in the French king's camp at Maestricht in June, at Nancy in August, and returned October 3 (ib., 1673, p. 566). Instructions April 9, 1673 (State Papers, France, vol. 136). On Oct. 20, 1673, Lockhart was appointed ambassador to France, but did not take leave of the king till Dec. 20 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1673-5, pp. 62, 222). Credentials dated Dec. 20 (Foreign Entry Book, 40; copy also in Rawlinson, MS. C. 172, f. 152). Instructions, undated, but probably of same date (Foreign Entry Book, 17). Arrived at Paris about Jan. 3, 1674 (Perwich, p. 287). A series of letters from Lockhart to secretary Coventry calendared in Fourth Report of Historical MSS. Comm., pp. 237-242, beginning March 11/21, 1674, and ending May 20/30, 1675. Lockhart died at Clermont, June 7 [N.S.], 1675 (Perwich, p. 319). Letters in State Papers, France, vols. 136-140, and in Archives des Affaires Étrangères, Angleterre, vols. 112, 114, 115. On Lockhart's embassy, see Burnet, Own Time, ed. Airy, i. 139, ii. 94; Lister, Life of Clarendon, iii. 484; Stowe, MS., 197, f. 4.

Bevil Skelton, envoy.

Warrant for payment to him as envoy (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1673-5, p. 332). In Paris in Nov. 1674 (Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 239).

John Lord Berkeley, ambassador extraordinary (and also plenipotentiary for the treaty at Nimeguen).

Instructions, July 28, 1675. Credentials Aug. 11 (Rawlinson, MS. A. 255, ff. 261, 264). Commission Oct. 17, 1675 (Foreign Entry Book, 185). Evelyn mentions his appointment, the illness which delays his starting, and his departure for France on Nov. 14, besides many other particulars (Diary, 1675-6). Recredentials in order that he may go to the treaty at Nimeguen, July 6 (Foreign Entry Book, 185), and again, Oct. 17, 1676 (Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 232). Letters from Berkeley to Henry Coventry between Dec. 10, 1675, and Nov. 6, 1676, are in the possession of the Marquis of Bath (tb., pp. 244-5). Many others in State Papers, France, vol. 141. Letters from Secretary Williamson to Berkeley are in Foreign Entry Book, 18.

Ralph Montagu, ambassador extraordinary.

Appointed Sept. 1, 1676 (Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 232). Instructions dated Aug. 29, 1676, and additional instructions Sept. 9 (Rawlinson, MS. A., 255, ff. 265-6). Credentials, 14 Sept. (ib., f. 267). Commission, Sept. 1 (ib., f. 268). Commission to Pomponne from Louis XIV to treat with him, Feb. 8, 1677, and treaty, Mar. 20, 1077 (Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 233). Instructions, Dec. 29, 1677 (ib., p. 232). Recredentials and revocation, July 3, 1678 (Foreign Entry Book, 186; Rawlinson, MS. A., 208, f. 38). See Archives des Affaires Etraugères, Angleterre, vols. 119, 124, 130, 131. Letters numbering in all about 150 to Henry Coventry from Oct. 14, 1676, to July 11, 1678, are in the possession of the Earl of Bath (Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 245). Two letters to Arlington and two from Danby are printed in the Report on the MSS, of the Duke of Bucclench at Montagu House, i. 523-4. Some letters from Montague to Jenkins are in State Papers, France, vol. 142. In 1710 Danby published Copies and extracts of some Letters written to and from the Earl of Danby, now Duke of Leeds, in 1676, 1677, and 1678, with particular remarks upon some of them. The letters in this publication were much garbled by Danby. Some of the originals are in the possession of Mr. Eliot Hodgkin, and are correctly printed in the report on his MSS., with the alterations pointed out (Fifteenth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., pt. ii, pp. 185-198; cf. Rariora, i. i8). Other letters belonging to this series in the possession of Mr. Alfred Morrison are printed in the catalogue of his collection, and in the Ninth Report of the Hist. MSS. Comm., pt. 2, pp. 451-4. On Montagu's embassy see also Mignet, Negociations, iv. 382, 433; Burnet, Own Time, ed. Airy, ii. 97, 150, 182; Dalrymple, Memoirs of Great Britain, i. 169, 176, 190, 249, ed. 1790. Henry Savile, envoy extraordinary.

Savile writes to Lord Ross on July 14, 1678: 'His Majesty has been pleased to send me in a great haste about a private concern of his into France, where I go post to-morrow morning in company with my Lord Sunderland, who goes ambassador extraordinary, in the place of your cousin Montagu, who by coming from there without order has so incensed the king that he has already turned him out of the Council' (Report on the Rutland MSS., ii. 52). Savile was in Paris Aug. to Oct., 1678 (Savile Correspondence, pp. 66-76). Sent back to Paris Jan. or Feb., 1678 (Luttrell, Diary, i. 7; Foxcroft, Life of Halifax, p. 141; Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 243). Revocation Feb. 19, 1682 (Foreign Entry Book, 191; cf. Savile Correspondence, p. 267). Many letters from Savile to Jenkins are in State Papers, France, vols. 143-4. Some printed with Savile's letters to Halifax in Savile Correspondence, ed. by W. D. Cooper, Camden Society, 1858. Letters to Coventry in the possession of Lord Bath (Fourth Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 237). Letters from Sunderland to Savile (Foreign Entry Book, 19); from Jenkins (Foreign Entry Book, 189).

Richard Graham, Viscount Preston, envoy extraordinary.

Credentials March 31, 1682 (Foreign Entry Book, 191). Instructions (State Papers, France, vol. 145), undated copy; original, dated March 31, and additional instruction, dated April 12, at Netherby Hall (Seventh Report Hist. MSS. Comm., p. 262; copy in All Souls MSS. 255, f. 150). Had his first audience June 17, 1682. Reappointed by James II. Credentials April 3, 1685. Revocation Aug. 1, 1685 (Foreign Entry Book, 19). Recredentials Aug. 28, 1685 (State Papers, France, vol. 148). For Preston's correspondence, see State Papers, France, vols. 144-148; correspondence with Sec. Jenkins (Foreign Entry Books, 180, 101). Letters to Preston from Sunderland (Foreign Entry Book, 19). A large collection of his letters, in the possession of Sir F. Graham of Netherby, were calendared in the Seventh Report of the Hist. MSS. Comm, pp. 261-428. Some few letters from this series are printed by Sir John Dalrymple in his Memoirs of Great Britain and Ireland (ed. 1790, Appendix to Pt. 1, Book i, pp. 94, 132-144). A passage in Christie, Life of Shaftesbury (ii., Appendix exviii), shows it was intended to send Preston to France in 1681, nine months before his actual going.

John Lord Churchill, envoy extraordinary.

Sent to announce the accession of James II about Feb. 17, 1685, also to obtain a loan from the King of France (Luttrell, i. 332; Dalrymple, Appendix to Part 1, Book ii, pp. 9, 32; Macaulay, History of England, ii. 33; Wolseley, Life of Marlborough, i. 261; Coxe, Marlborough, i. 24, ed. 1818).

Sir William Trumbull, envoy extraordinary.

Instructions Sept. 21, 1685. Credentials Oct. 20, 1685 (Foreign Entry Book, 19: a copy of Trumbull's instructions is in Rawlinson, MS. A. 257, f. 190). He arrived at Paris, Nov. 13/23, and had his first audience on Dec. 11. His recredentials are dated Oct. 3, 1686. For his letters see State Papers, France, 148, 150; and for despatches from Sunderland to him, Foreign Entry Book, 19. On Trumbull's Mission see also Burnet, Own Time, i. 769; and Dalrymple, Memoirs of Great Britain, Appendix to Part 1, Book ii, pp. 46-49.

Bevil Skelton, ambassador (?).

Credentials and instructions Nov. 8, 1686 (Foreign Entry Book, 19). Rebuked Aug. 30, 1688, for exceeding his instructions (ib.). Returned to England and was immediately sent to the Tower (Luttrell, i. 462). See also Dalrymple, Memoirs, Part 1, Book v, pp. 7, 10, 38; Ranke, History of England, iv. 420; Macaulay, iii. 188-190; Klopp, Fall des Hauses Stuart, iii. 202, 278, 288, 344; Mackintosh, History of the Revolution, p. 427. Despatches from Sunderland to Skelton are in Foreign Entry Book, 19; Letters from Skelton to Sunderland in State Papers, France, vols. 150, 151. See also Rawlinson, MS. A., 139, and Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 164, 170-1.

Henry, Lord Waldegrave, ambassador extraordinary.

Instructions and credentials Nov. 7, 1688 (Foreign Entry Book, 19). Queen Mary sends letters by him (Report on Stuart Papers, i. 34). In August, 1689, said to be dead (Luttrell, Diary, i. 570).

FRENCH AMBASSADORS

AND

DIPLOMATIC AGENTS IN ENGLAND

(1603 - 1688).

Christophe de Harlay, Comte de Beaumont, 'Conseiller d'état' (April, 1603), ambassador in ordinary.

Came to England first in Jan., 1602. He was continued in his charge by letter of Henri IV dated April 14, 1603 (Lettres Missives de Henri IV, ed. Berger de Xivrey, vi. 73). He left London in Nov., 1605. His complete correspondence, with letters of the king and of M. de Villeroy addressed to him, is in the Bibliothèque Nationale, MSS. 3501 et seqq. Transcripts of it are also in the British Museum, Add. MSS. 30638-30641. It is printed by P. Laffleur de Kermaingant, L'Ambassade de France en Angleterre sous Henri IV: Mission de Christophe de Harlay, Comte de Beaumont, 2 vols, 1895.

Vicomte de Ségur (April, 1605).

Sent on a special mission (Baschet). His name is also spelt 'Sagar,' 'Sagart,' 'Sagard,' and 'Saguar'; and it is probable that Robert Creichton, Lord Sanquhar, was the person thus designated. See Kermaingant, ii. 104-6, 150, 196, 199-201.

Charles Cauchon de Maupas, Baron du Tour, 'Conseiller d'état,' ambassador extraordinary (Baschet).

He was originally ambassador in Scotland, accompanied James to London, and left in May, 1603 (see Kermaingant, i. 92, 99, 103; ii. 113).

Maximilien de Béthune, Marquis de Rosny, 'Grand Maître de l'Artillerie, grand Voyer et Surintendent des Finances de France,' etc. (June, 1603), ambassador extraordinary.

See Berger de Xivrey, Lettres Missives de Henri II, vi. 97; Gardiner, History of England, i. 106; Motley, United Netherlands, iii. 143. The despatches written by Sully during this embassy are in Bibliothèque Nationale, MS. 3502. Kermaingant in his Mission de Christophe de Harlay, i. 114, 286, and Pfister in the Revue Historique, lv, pp. 70, 290, have shown the fictitious character of the account of the embassy given by Sully in his Occonomics Royales.

Louis de l'Hôpital, Sieur de Vitry, 'Chevalier des Ordres et Capitaine des Gardes' (Sept., 1603), ambassador extraordinary.

Credentials dated Aug. 26 (Baschet). Instructions dated Aug. 27 (Kermaingant, i. 129; Berger de Xivrey, Lettres Missives de Henri IV, vi. 160; Nichols, Progresses of James I, i. 253, 255, 259.

M. Dujardin, secretary.

Chargé d'affaires after the departure of the Comte de Beaumont (see Kermaingant, i. 275, 281; Berger de Xivrey, Lettres Missives de Henri IV, vi. 529, 530). His letters are in Bibliothèque Nationale, MS. 15972.

Charles Cauchon de Maupas, Baron du Tour (Jan., 1606), ambassador extraordinary.

Instructions dated Dec. 19, 1605. Arrived in Jan., 1606. See Kermaingant, i. 277; ii. 317.

M. Antoine Le Févre de la Boderie, 'Conseiller du Roi' (April, 1606), ambassador in ordinary.

In the Ambassades his instructions are printed at length with the date April 15 (vol. i, pp. 1-29), and his first letter from London is dated May 22 (ib., p. 38). La Boderie returned to France in August, 1609, and was sent to England again as ambassador in January, 1610. His instructions are dated Dec. 28, 1609 (Ambassades, i. xxviii.), and he finally left England in Jan., 1611. His correspondence is in Bibliothèque Nationale MSS. 1598.4-5. In 1733 there was published at Amsterdam Lettres de Henri IV, Roi de France, et de Messieurs de Villeroy et de Puisieux a M. A. le Fevre de la Boderie, Ambassadeur de France en Angleterre depuis 1606 jusqu' en 1611. This was reprinted in 1750 in five vols, with the addition of La Boderie's own letters, under the title of Ambassades de M. De La Boderie en Angleterre. See also Birch, View of the Negotiations between England and France, pp. 257, 309; Kermaingant, Mission de Christophe de Harlay, Comte de Beaumont, i. 281; ii. 319. Transcripts of La Boderie's letters and of the answers to them are in the British Museum, Add. MSS. 30642-4.

Jean de Beaumanoir, Maréchal de Lavardin (Jan., 1611), ambassador extraordinary.

Arrived Jan. 26, 1611; left Feb. 14, 1611 (Baschet). Instructions dated Dec., 1610, in Bibliothèque Nationale MS. 4112. See Nichols, Progresses of James I, ii. 372, 407.

Samuel Spifame, Sieur des Buisseaux, 'Conseiller au Parlement et Conseiller d'état' (Feb., 1611), ambassador in ordinary.

Arrived at London Feb., 1611; left Jan., 1615 (Baschet). Complete Correspondence in Bibliothèque Nationale, MSS. 15985-7; Edwards, Life of Raleigh, i. 597.

Henri de La Tour, Vicomte de Turenne and Duc de Bouillon (April, 1612), ambassador extraordinary.

Left London, May 29, 1612 (Baschet). Instructions in Bibliothèque Nationale, MS. 4112. See Birch's View of the Negotiations between England and France, pp. 343-6, 359, 373.

M. de Sève, secretary and chargé d'affaires.

Correspondence from 16 Jan., 1615, to 17 July, 1615 in Bibliothèque Nationale, MS. 15988 (Baschet).

Gaspard Dauvet, Sieur des Marets (July, 1615), Governor of Beauvais and Maître d'Hôtel du Roi, ambassador in ordinary.

Arrived, July, 1615; took leave, Jan. 27, 1618. Absent from July to Oct., 1617 (Baschet). Instructions and complete correspondence in Bibliothèque Nationale, MSS. 15,988, 4112, and in the Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vol. 26. See Birch, View of the Negotiations between England and France, pp. 387-9; Gardiner, iii. 54, 139-143; Edwards, Life of Raleigh, i. 591-7, 665. Des Marets did not really leave England till April, 1618, delayed by his wife's illness (Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 476). 'Audience of leave,' April 8, 1618 (Camden, Annals of James I).

M. le Clerc, 'agent for the King of France' after the departure of Des Marets.

Forbidden the Court in Sept., 1618, and left in Oct. (Gardiner, iii. 139, 144; Camden, Annals of James I).

Baron du Tour (Feb. 1617), ambassador extraordinary.

Instructions and letters in Archives des Affaires Etrangères (Baschet). See Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu, vii. 355. He arrived at the end of January, 1617, and left about the beginning of March (Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 185, 244, 247, 252).

Francois Juvenal, Seigneur des Ursins and Marquis de Tresnel (May, 1619), ambassador extraordinary.

Instructions April, 1619, and documents, Bibliothèque Nationale, MSS. 4112, 15988. See Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 535-7, 549. There is some contradiction as to this ambassador's title. The instructions copied by Baschet style him 'Tresnel,' the King's letters 'Fresnel.' Camden writes, 'The Marquis de Tremouille of the family of the Ursins, ambassador from the French king . . . is conducted to London, May 1,' and adds that he left London May 21 (Annals of James I; see also Cal. S. P. Dom., 1619-23, pp. 42, 48).

Tanneguy Le Veneur, Comte de Tillières (Aug., 1619), ambassador in ordinary.

Arrived in August, 1619; first audience at Windsor Sept. 15. Absent on leave Aug. to Oct., 1623. Recredentials June 25, 1624 (Foreign Entry Book, 166). Leaves London July, 1624. Instructions and correspondence in Bibliothèque Nationale, MSS. 4112 and 15988-0, and in Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 27, 29, 30. See Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 566, 763; Gardiner, v. 253; Mémoires Inédits du Comte Leveneur de Tillières, ed. par C. Hippeau, Paris, 1863.

Le Maréchal de Cadenet (Jan., 1621), ambassador extraordinary.

Instructions and correspondence in Bibliotheque Nationale, MSS. 4112, 15988 (Baschet). Arrives in England at end of Dec., 1620; audience Jan. 1, 1621; took leave Jan. 8 (Cal. S. P. Dom., 1619-23, pp. 212-214; Nichols, Progresses, iii. 630-648; Gardiner, iii. 389). See also Mémoires de Tillières, pp. 28-48.

M. Du Molin, secretary charged with correspondence during the absence of the Comte de Tillières (Aug.-Oct., 1623).

Correspondence in Archives des Affaires Etrangères

(Baschet).

Antoine Coeffier Ruzé, Marquis d'Effiat, governor of Bourbonnais and Auvergne (July, 1624), ambassador in ordinary.

Arrived in London July, 1624; left July, 1625 (Baschet). Complete correspondence in Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 28–35. Instructions dated 26 June, 1624. Recredentials dated July 15, 1625. See Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu, vii. (?), 534–545; Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 981, 1001-2, 1006; Gardiner, v. 253, 377; Harleian MS. 4597.

Henri Auguste de Loménie, Sieur de la Ville aux Clercs, Secretary of State (Nov., 1624), ambassador extraordinary.

Arrived Dec, 1624; left Jan., 1625. Correspondence in Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vol. 32. Instructions dated 27 Nov., 1624; printed in Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu, ii. 39. See Mémoires de Brienne in vol. 35 of Petitot, Collection des Mémoires, pp. 388-397; Nichols, Progresses of James I, iii. 1008; Gardiner, v. 276, 280, 377.

Guillaume d'Hugues, Archbishop of Ennbrun, 'chargé de mission' (1624).

Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vol. 26.

René Potier, Comte de Tresmes, Captain of the Gardes du Corps, Lieutenant-general in Champagne (May, 1625), extraordinary ambassador.

Sent to condole on the death of James I. Instructions dated April 27 printed in Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu, ii.

73. Credentials dated April 30.

Claude de Lorraine, Duc de Chevreuse, and Henry Auguste de Loménie, Sieur de la Ville aux Clercs (May, 1625), extraordinary ambassadors.

Instructions dated May 31, 1625, in Baschet's Transcripts, but printed by Avenel as of June 1 (Lettres de Richelieu, ii. 90, 94). Recredentials for Chevreuse July 13 (Foreign Entry Book, 166). Correspondence in Archives des Alfaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 33, 35. See Mémoires de Brienne, ed. Petitot, pp. 406-422; and Gardiner, v. 327, 377.

Du Plessis, Bishop of Mende, and Tanneguy Le Veneur, Comte de Tillières (Aug., 1625), 'Chargés des affaires du Roi' until the sending of an ambassador.

Letters of credit, dated Aug. 16, and correspondence in Archives des Affaires Etrangères. See Gardiner, v. 376, 422: vi. 5; Mémoires de Tillières, ed. Hippeau, pp. 89, 239.

Jean de Varignies, Seigneur de Blainville, Master of the King's Wardrobe and member of the Council of State (Sept., 1625), ambassador in ordinary.

Instructions dated Sept. 3; further instructions Sept. 17 (printed in Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu, ii. 124, 137). Arrived at London Oct. 11, 1625; left end of April, 1626 (Baschet). Complete correspondence in Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vols. 36-38. See L'Ambassade de M. de Blainville (Revue des Questions Historiques, 1878); Tillières, Memoires, p. 101; Gardiner, vi. 25, 27, 57, 70, 89. Transcripts of his negotiations are in British Museum, Add. MS. 30651.

Le Sr. Bautru (1626).

Sent on a private mission (Baschet). See Tillières, Mémoires, p. 112. Archives des Affaires Etrangères, Angleterre, vol. 41.

Francois, Maréchal de Bassompierre (Oct., 1626), extraordinary ambassador.

Instructions dated Aug. 23 (printed in Avenel, Lettres de Richelieu). Arrived at London Oct. 7; left London Dec. 2, 1626. Complete correspondence in Archives des
